

COMPROMISE MAY SAVE THE SULTAN

THE SENATE THE GOVERNOR AND CAMPBELL

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN FREAR AND NINE MEMBERS OF THE SENATE WHO PROTESTED AGAINST REPORTED INTENTION TO RENOMINATE CAMPBELL—SENATORS SAID TO BE "SORE" OVER FAILURE TO SEND IN A NEW NOMINATION.

The campaign over the treasurership continues with Campbell's friends making a very warm fight among members of the Senate to win over enough members to confirm him should his name be sent in again, as was done in the case of Attorney General Hemenway. It is said that Governor Frear will make the nomination again if assured that a majority of the Senate will approve it.

It was learned today that last Friday nine members of the Senate signed a letter addressed to the governor "respectfully asking" that he refrain from sending in the name of A. J. Campbell again for treasurer. This was a result of reports that he might be renominated.

A reply from the governor was received on the same day. It was about as follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of the letter of this date signed by yourself and eight other members of the Senate, asking me not to again send the name of A. J. Campbell to the Senate for the office of treasurer of Hawaii, and to say that I have no intention of doing so against the wish of a majority of the Senate.

A report around town today is to the effect that the tabling of various bills in the Senate this morning, which came unexpectedly to some members, was due in part to the treasurership situation. The majority is said to be irritated over the failure of the governor to send in another nomination, and to have concluded that he proposes to leave the job open until the session expires and then re-nominate Campbell.

Hence a lot of hostility to administration measures and a prospect of a lively end of the session.

ANOTHER JOB IS VACANT

NORMAN WATKINS TO LEAVE LIQUOR COMMISSION—WILL MAKE LONG VISIT TO MASSACHUSETTS

Still more trouble is in sight for Governor Frear, that of finding another man who is willing to accept the position of Liquor Commissioner. It has been announced on the best of authority, though not coming from the Executive Chamber, that Norman Watkins, who succeeded Jack Lucas on the commission when the latter resigned, has decided to quit. It is stated that his resignation was handed to Governor Frear a week ago.

Mr. Watkins is preparing for a long trip to the mainland and will not be in this city when the main work of the Liquor Commission comes during the last weeks of the month of June. He expects to go back to Massachusetts and to spend about six or seven months in that section of the country. No candidate for the position has yet been heard from.

CLUB WANTS TO DINE FAIRBANKS

Ex-Vice President Fairbanks will be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given next Wednesday evening at the Commercial club. Wireleses are already being sent to the distinguished visitor welcoming him to Honolulu and inviting him to dinners and entertainments, and the Commercial Club today sent a wireless. As he is expected to be in town next Wednesday, it is hoped that he will accept.

NEW SYSTEM WORKS WELL

Treasurer Trent is paying off county employees this month on the individual warrant plan, and, despite the deluge of pay slips that have come in, his office has handled the business neatly, quickly and without a dollar of extra expense. It is true that his office has been provided with a couple of new adding machines, which greatly help out; and without which it would likely be impossible to do the work.

Heretofore it has been the practice for the treasurer to turn over lump sums to bureau heads on blank warrant, a system which was much more simple so far as the treasury office was concerned. The change went into effect in March, however, and at the present pay period every employee of the city and county has his own warrant. The fact that the Treasurer has been able to handle the flood without extra expense to the city makes the new system appear all the more desirable.

The largest strain of the individual warrant system, however, is on the auditor. But as he has been allowed an additional clerk, the jam of the past few days has been worked off without great difficulty.

FAST TRIP OF FRIEDA

FOURMASTED SHIP MAKES GOOD TIME ON LONG VOYAGE—BRINGS FERTILIZER, GIN AND TIN.

The fourmasted German ship Freida, Captain Logeman, arrived this morning after a clever passage of 120 days from Hamburg. She is said to be the only German ship which has ever entered this port that is square rigged on four masts. Fine weather was experienced most of the way and two vessels bound for Europe were sighted on the trip, but neither could be recognized.

The Freida brought a cargo of about 2700 tons for this port, the main item being fertilizer. In addition to this there were a number of cases of gin and a shipment of tin for Honolulu. Her entire cargo will be discharged in this city.

A rather unusual incident occurred night before last at a few minutes past 2 o'clock. A huge shooting star passed over the vessel and immediately after three loud explosions, as it from a big cannon were heard. Captain Logeman thought that it might have something to do with some volcanic disturbance on Hawaii but now believes that it was from some other cause.

TAXATION BILL IS CAST ASIDE BY THE SENATE

WITHOUT PRELIMINARY DEBATE THE SENATE LAYS THE TAXATION BILL ON THE TABLE ON THIRD READING—RESOLUTION ADOPTED FAVORING INCREASE OF SALARY OF SECRETARY OF HAWAII—SEWER BILL HAS CLOSE SHAVE.

This morning the Senate summarily shelved the House taxation bill, which had passed second reading after two days of laborious consideration in committee of the whole. It has been reported that the introducer of the bill in the House did not care a great deal for it, and that some of the Senators who had aided it through second reading were not excessively effectuate toward it. The reason given for this indifference is that the Tax Commission failed entirely in what it was appointed to do, namely, to codify all of the tax laws scattered through the statutes and submit such amendments as might appear to be desired by public opinion. Instead of that result the commission bill, as it was understood to be, proved to be a mere patchwork of amendments which did not contain the former legislation necessary to be retained with or without amendment. Another striking incident of this morning's session was the narrow escape the Honolulu sewer assessment bill had on third reading. President Smith had fought it on the floor with his utmost vigor and when the first vote on third reading had resulted seven to seven he stated that Senor Woods had been granted leave of absence. McCarthy thought Woods should be sent for, as his vote would render a positive decision on the bill. Woods could not have been far away, as he came in within a minute or so. His vote passed the bill. The Senate tabled the House bill to increase the salaries of officers of the municipality of Honolulu without discussion on third reading.

THE SENATE. FIFTY-THIRD DAY.

The House of Representatives informed the Senate it had passed with amendment Senate bill 19 relating to hotels, restaurants and boarding houses. Referred to ways and means committee.

Senate bill relating to marriage licenses was also returned with amendments. Coelho moved to concur in the amendments. Carried 14-0.

Senate bill prohibiting unauthorized formation of military organizations was returned as having passed third reading in the House.

Senate bill relating to medicine and surgery was returned as having passed.

VET BILL STAYS DEAD; GLANDERS BILL PASSES

THIRD READINGS THICKEN AS SESSION COMES TO CLOSE—THICK-NECKED PIGS ARE DISCUSSED—RICE ORDERS THE HOUSE TO SPEAK UP LOUD AND CLEAR—KALEIOPU'S DEPOSIT MEASURE RECOMMENDED FOR PASSAGE.

A vain effort was made in the House this morning to resurrect Douthitt's H. B. 223, to regulate the practice of veterinary medicine, surgery and dentistry. A motion to take it from the table, where it was placed yesterday, failed to carry today.

Among the bills passing third reading this morning was Senator Maikau's bill raising the salaries of the Hawaii county clerk and the Hilo deputy sheriff, and Representative Shingle's bill providing for a board of regents to control the affairs of the College of Hawaii.

FIFTY-FOURTH DAY. Morning Session.

There came up for third reading the measure H. B. 239, to empower the Honolulu City and County Clerk to appoint unto himself an assistant.

Furtado failed to see any merit in this bill. It tended to make a Czar of the Clerk of the City and County of Honolulu.

"The Honorable member seems to know too much of our affairs in Honolulu," said Kaleiopu.

"Move the bill be tabled," said Furtado.

There was nothing at all in the municipal act, Kaleiopu declared, which allowed the clerk to appoint an assistant; this bill was to give the clerk power to name an assistant, just as all other City and County elected officers were empowered by the municipal act, in which act the clerk had been overlooked.

The bill passed, 25 to 2.
INSURANCE TAXATION.
The House insurance taxation proof the day for third reading. This bill provides for a penalty of $25 per day of tax delinquency on the part of insurance companies doing business in this Territory. Passed unanimously.

OBEDIENCE NOTED.

A communication from the Board of Health notified the House that its resolution would be forthwith carried out in that a certain inmate of the leper settlement would be returned to Honolulu for re-examination inasmuch as he is said not to be afflicted and never to have been afflicted with leprosy.

ORDERED TO TALK-UP.

Vice-Speaker Rice read the rule and requested members to speak out loud and clear when answering roll-call on votes.

"Does the Speaker make this request for the benefit of Kama and Kaniho?" asked Shingle.

"For the benefit of the whole House," said Rice.

Whereupon everybody but Castro and Hihio spoke up loud and clear. Castro seemed tired from overwork. Hihio was seemingly not quite awake, or rather he said "aye" with the effort of a stout man who had partaken too generously of breakfast. Kama is always the clearest and loudest answerer to the call of the roll.

SICK BEAST BILL.

Kaniho after Coney had pointed out a dozen faults in Shingle's "gladders" bill, moved that the measure be indefinitely postponed. This bill provides that if you know of an animal that is afflicted with an infectious or contagious disease, you must proclaim the fact to the public authorities or else suffer for your sympathetic silence. The idea is to prevent or stop the spread of "catching" animal complaints. The
